

GASOLINE FERRY FOR WEST POINT

Application Filed for a Charter, and Large Country Will Be Opened Up.

MISS BROADDUS IS VERY ILL

A Trip By Boat From West Point to Williamsburg Has Its Difficulties.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WEST POINT, VA., March 3.—Notifications of application for a charter for a new ferry have been posted at King William, King and Queen and Gloucester Courthouses. The enterprise is to be carried out by Mr. H. G. Wirgman, who was manager and afterward receiver for the Chesapeake Package Company, and Captain John D. Elms, manager of the West Point Oyster Company. The ferry will be from West Point to Popopotank Creek, in Gloucester, and to Hockley Neck, in King and Queen county. A large territory will thus be opened up, giving the farmers quick transportation for fruits, vegetables and other produce. The aim is to start the ferry as soon as preliminaries are completed. Gasoline launches will be the means of conveyance.

Miss Minnie Broadbush, presiding teacher in the West Point Seminary, left Tuesday morning to visit her niece, Miss Lois Broadbush, a student in the Rawlings Female Institute, at Charlottesville, who is exceedingly ill with pneumonia. Miss Lois Broadbush is a daughter of Rev. Andrew Broadbush, of Sparta, Caroline county. He is also with his daughter, who continues ill.

Mr. Ed. Morvitz returned Thursday from a delightful trip to Chicago, where for two weeks or more he has been visiting among an extensive family connection. The closing and crowning event of his visit was the "silver wedding" of his sister, Mrs. J. J. Morvitz, of Chicago.

Mrs. Ed. Morvitz and children, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Charles Abramson, of Baltimore, are home again, after a long visit in Baltimore.

A party of seventeen young men, of West Point, deceived by budding flowers and spring zephyrs, opened the season with an excursion by launch to Williamsburg. Alighting to go up Queen's Creek, the pilot took them ten miles beyond to King's Creek, encountered low tides, thunderstorms and various untoward circumstances. Finally spending a few hours in the "Old Burg," they reached West Point at 2 A. M. Monday, in time to get indoors before the blizzard-sadder, if not wiser.

Mrs. Herbert I. Lewis is visiting relatives in Norfolk.

Mrs. John S. De Farges has been quite sick.

The epidemic of measles has swept over this entire section all of the winter, and many schools in the county had to close in consequence.

The blizzard of Tuesday left grip, colds and coughs in its wake.

The friends of Mrs. Philip Gibson regret very much to hear of her illness at her

Y. M. C. A. ADDRESS.

Roanoke College Cotillon Club Gives Ante-Lenten German.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SALEM, VA., March 3.—The annual address before the Y. M. C. A. was delivered in the college church Sunday night by Rev. W. R. Brown (class of '90), of Rural Retreat, Va. The address was interesting and practical and was based on Titus 2:12. Special music was rendered for the occasion by a number of young men from the college.

The Roanoke College Cotillon Club gave a very pretty German Tuesday night at the Hotel Crawford. It was the last of the pre-Lenten parties, and under the management of Mr. J. Bowman proved a success in every way. The music was furnished by the Holroyd Orchestra, of Roanoke, and the German was led by Dr. G. E. Koonitz, with Miss Thompson, of Roanoke.

Those present were: Miss Katie Dillard with Mr. Fred Chapman, Miss Besie

THE RANDOLPH-MACON FRONT ROYAL ACADEMY

Literary and Athletic Societies in Healthy Condition.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY, FRONT ROYAL, VA., March 3.—The present year is marked by the largest attendance at the academy during its history of fourteen years. The general tone of the student body is, also, above the average, which, of course, increases the effectiveness of the work of the academy. The enrollment to date is 126, and other students are to come. The total enrollment for 1904-5 was 100, while that of 1903-4 was 89. The growth in patronage and popularity of this school has been steady and permanent for the past five and six years. The above figures show the excess in the enrollment for the present year over 1903-4 to be slightly more than half the enrollment for that season.

This year Prof. O. M. Whitmore was added to the teaching force of the academy.

The student organizations of the school are: A college Y. M. C. A., two literary societies—Washington and Franklin chapters of the Kappa Kappa fraternity and an athletic association.

Reports of all students are sent to the patrons every six weeks, and three rolls of honor are kept. Students averaging on class studies 90 per cent. are put on the third roll; those averaging 85 per cent. on the second roll, and those averaging 80 per cent. on the first roll.

The three averaging highest on first roll constitute the special roll. For the period ending February 26, these were Gibson, H. W. Warren, S. G. Cline, and Carl Adams and Noble Jarrell tied for third place.

The annual public night exercises, consisting of orations, declamations and a debate, was given in the study hall of the academy on February 24th, the officers and speakers of the occasion being President A. B. Sapp, Washington Society; Orators: A. B. Maahua, Washington Society; P. W. Burnham, Franklin; Declamers: E. L. Fox and Kenneth Cunningham, Washington Society, and J. S. Townley and H. E. McClung, Franklin. Debaters—Affirmative, W. R. Hardesty and H. P. Myers, Washington Society; negative, E. B. King and J. I. Pullen, Franklin; question: "Resolved, That foot-ball should be abolished," the decision being awarded in favor of the affirmative.

The academy will be represented in the convention of the Students' Volunteer Movement, to be held in Nashville, Tenn., February 26th to March 4th, by P. W. Burnham, J. I. Pullen and W. A. Lynch. The Y. M. C. A. sent as its delegates to the State Y. M. C. A. convention in Norfolk February 15-18, Kenneth Cunningham and Paul Myers.

ROANOKE COLLEGE.

Celebration of the Ciceronian Literary Society.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SALEM, VA., March 3.—The fiftieth annual celebration of the Ciceronian Literary Society was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening, February 22d, at 8 o'clock. The young men of the society, assisted by young ladies, had decorated the stage in the colors of the society, and these, with the palms placed to right and left, produced a most pleasing and artistic effect. The music was furnished by the Salem Band. The exercises were opened with prayer by Dr. L. A. Fox, of the faculty, after which the president, Mr. Roger T. James, of Virginia, delivered a very graceful and well-considered address, "Fading for the subject the society's motto, 'Non nobis sed patrie.' He was followed by Mr. Clifford C. Grove, of Virginia, who found his theme in the life of John Howard Payne and his immortal song of home.

The debaters had chosen an up-to-date and practical question: "Resolved, That the proposed Appalachian Park should be established and maintained by the National Government." The affirmative was handled with ability by Mr. Frederick H. Bostian, of North Carolina, while the opposite side was well cared for by Mr. Harley A. Scott, of the same State. Perhaps the most prominent position on the programme is that of final orator, a position assigned this year to Mr. R. A. Goodman, of North Carolina, who not only had a well-prepared speech, but delivered it in a most effective style. On the whole, the performance compared most favorably with any that has ever been given in recent years, and the large audience present showed its interest and appreciation by generous applause.

On Friday evening of last week a very successful student minstrel was given in the Town Hall for the benefit of the Athletic Association. The performance was arranged and carried out in less than a week, and considering the shortness of the time, the work done by the boys was remarkably good. It was a surprise even to the students themselves to know that they had among them so much musical talent. While every feature of the programme won applause, and deserved it, perhaps the topical song, "Nobody," rendered by Frank Connor, proved the most decided hit. The clever dancing by Lyle McClung was a good second. The entertainers were Frank Connor, J. R. Peery, R. C. Bowman, John Saul, A. M. Bowman and Lyle McClung. The chorus consisted of Rinker, Murphy, J. Bowman, Quinga, Batte, Bowers, Dameron, Welton, G. Peery and Gibboney. The pianist was Paul McKinn.

The boys had a good house, and a neat sum was turned into the treasury of the Athletic Association.

FEMALE NORMAL.

Young Ladies Attend the Intermediate Celebration.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, FARMVILLE, VA., March 3.—Many of the students and teachers enjoyed the privilege of listening to a very fine European lecture at the opera house, Tuesday evening, February 27th, by Rev. Curtis Lee Laws, D. D., of Baltimore. His subject was a fascinating one: "Paris, Versailles and Napoleon's Career." The speaker dealt in a delightful manner with the tragic history, the exquisite art, the splendid architecture, of the most beautiful city in the world, and added charm to his words by superb views of the great things and famous people described. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Farmville Baptist Church of which Dr. Laws was pastor about seventeen years ago.

The following young ladies had the pleasure of attending the intermediate celebration at Hampden-Sydney College, from February 23-25: Misses Anne and Mildred Richardson, the guests of Mrs. John Venable; Miss Hattie Bugh, with Mrs. Edwards; Mrs. Lizzie Richard, with Miss McAllister; Miss Hattie Cox with Mrs. Portia L. Morrison. Misses Martha Edmunds and Frankie McKinnay, entertained at the home of Major Andrew Venable. Miss Carrie Kyle, who was also to have been the guest of Mrs. McAllister, was prevented by illness from attending.

Messenger, Miss Lila Andrews, Miss Allen Andrews, Miss Carrie Sutherland, Miss Laura Hills, Miss Elsie Gwyn, and Miss Lila London. Miss Rice is the guest of the Misses Gattlinger, at Academy Place, and Misses Lancaster and Schofield are with Miss Boyce on Lindley Avenue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cathcart and Miss Nanie Cathcart, who have spent the past two months with Mrs. and Miss Snow, on Friday, March 3, returned to their home in Baltimore.

Mrs. Susan Gorsuch, from near Baltimore, is now visiting her cousin, Miss Snow.

Mr. James Toms spent Saturday, February 24, with his sister, Miss Elaine Toms.

Good news is received from Miss Elizabeth Cochran, who is compelled by illness to be an inmate for several weeks, of St. Luke's Hospital, Richmond.

FORK UNION, VA.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

The semi-annual concert of the Fork Union Academy occurred here Thursday evening. The entire programme was unusually interesting, which was attended by an immense audience. Some distinguished visitors were present on the occasion.

TWO HOSPITALS.

Two more cases of Bright's Disease that recovered after the treatment in hospitals had failed and life was despaired of.

One is John H. Gyselaar, the well known merchant of Eureka, Cal. He was in the Lane Hospital in San Francisco for three months. Was so weak and drowsy he had to be tapped every ten days. He was steadily sinking when his family took him home and put him on Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's Disease. The tapping ceased and he began to mend, and is now perfectly well. Everybody in Eureka knows of this miraculous escape.

Another case is that of Mr. T. J. Mulloy, of 216 Bryant Street, San Francisco. A few months ago he was in the U. S. Marine Hospital in that city, and was so low with Bright's Disease that his sister, Mrs. French, was advised by the physician in charge that a tap was even inevitable and close at hand. She took him home and put him on the same treatment that saved Gyselaar. He recovered, and five months later returned to his employment. Write either of the above if you question this.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes are curable in 95 per cent. of all cases by Fulton's Compound. Send for literature. J. H. Fulton Co., 409 Washington Street, San Francisco, CALIF.

MOTHERS NEEDLESS SUFFERING

In young girls, is too often caused by the mothers' lack of knowledge of proper treatment at that time. "Mamma was almost crazy, to think of my sickness", writes Miss Hazel Upson, of 130 S. Fifth Street, De Kalb, Ill. "The best doctor in De Kalb gave me up and said I could not get well. I had been sick with a fever and never got over it, but brought me around all right. Before taking Cardui I had been out of order for six months, was weak, pale, wan and thin and hardly able to get around. A lady friend recommended Cardui and mamma got me a bottle, though she had very little hope of its helping me, but praise God I had taken just three bottles when I was relieved and began to get well right off. Now I am feeling well. Mamma wants me to send you my picture to let you see how fat I am getting. Mamma and I are so thankful for the Wine of Cardui, and I will do all I can to let every suffering person know how much it has done for me." Cardui is a harmless vegetable medicine for women and girls, with a specific strengthening curative effect upon the female organs. For over half a century it has been in successful use and in that long trial has proved itself a safe, reliable remedy, for young and old. Try it.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Relief
